MAY WRITE ANOTHER LETTER

DALLY BURE NATIONAL MANY P.

Blaine's Friends Believe He Will Emphasize His Recent Declination.

WHERE PRESIDENT HARRISON IS STRONG

Evidence That He is the Best Vote Getter That the Republican Party Has Had in Many Years-Washington Miscellaneous.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE BEE,

513 FOURTHENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, D. C., May 27. Secretary Eikins and other close persons friends of Secretary Blame pelieve that unless there is an immediate cessation of the unauthorized use of the latter's name for the presidential nomination he will emphasize his letter to General Clarkson of February 7. announcing that he would not be a candidate, and that his second letter will be as explicit as the second one upon the same subject in 1888. This belief is based upon private utterances made recently by Mr. Blaine and his expressions of general principles as he laid them down in his letter to President Garfield in 1880, his second letter of 1888 and various other utterances.

In his second letter of 1888, addressed to Mr. Whitelaw Reid and bearing date of Paris, May 17, Mr. Blaine, after expressing regret and surprise that the positive statements of his Fiorence letter had been apparently willfully misinterpreted to mean that he might accept the nomination under possible contingencies, wrote this: "If I should now, by speech or by silence, by commission or omission, permit my name in any event to come before the convention. I should incur the reproach of being incandid with those who have always been candid with me. I speak, therefore, because I am not willing to remain in a doubtful attitude. I am not willing to be the cause of inducing a wrangle among the millions who have given me their suffrage and

Other expressions in the same direction were given in these dispatches last right, so that Mr. Blaine is positively and specifically committed against a nomination under the existing circumstances. Many republicans today added their belief that the renomination of the president was not only certain but that it was the logic of past events and future expectations.

General Hawley's Views.

General Joseph R. Hawley of Connecticut, one of the most powerful republicans in the senate, is one of those who believe the delegates at Minneapolis will canvass the field with only the good of the party and country in view, and will not let personal prejudices or machinations of individual politicians sway them in reaching their conclusions.

He said today: "The nominee must be a winner. This is the object the convention will have in view. We can only win with a man who has the fullest confidence of the people. Mr. Biaine is a great statesman, he is out of the question. President Harri-son has been accorded the nomination by common consent, but objections have been entered of late by some who object to him solely on personal grounds. I do not believe principle should go down for animosities purely personal. President Harrison has proved himself a most canable cabinet officer in all of the positions under him. "He has been tested thoroughly as the chief of the cabinet. His state papers have been perfect. The manner in which the foreign disputes were handled under his direc-tion emphasized his administration as being theroughly American and strongly republi can. We want a campaign founded upon lasting strength. President Harrison will be weakest on the day of his renomination. There will be daily growth in strength, pop-ularity and enthisiasm and the events of 1888 will be duplicated. There was a wide difference between the campaign of 1884 and 1888 upon our side. In 1884 there was immense enthusiasm, noise, torchlight processions and oratory, more than ever before, but these things seemed to prevent that close and compact organization, that daily drill of the rank and file of the party, that thorough consideration of the party thought so essential to party success. Where Barrison is Strong.

cat the renomination of President Harrison would be acceptable to the Pacific slope and was therefore expected. "The republicans of California and the conservative men in other parties," said the senator, "are well satisfied with the administration. I expect the California delegation to support Harrison's renomination. Ours has for many years been a strong Blaine state, but we years been a strong Blaine state, but we have taken Mr. Blaine at his word and regard him as entirely out of the question. He is a part of the administration and as far as we know will be a part of the next if Mr. Harrison is elected and we will get the benefit of his services. The president has not faltered or shown the least failing in anything he has undertagen. With him we are sure to win. He will sweep the Pacific slope again and his cenvass will be one without a defense in any respect."

This evening's Star gives prominence to this announcement: "One of the big four delegates-at-lorge from New York wrote a letter last night which was discussed at the white house today, declaring that there were fifty delegates in New York state who would vote for Harrison, first and last, who would not vote for Blaine even if he were an avowed candidate. The writer of this letter was not Mr. Platt nor Mr. Miller."

Desire the Strongest Man.

Colonel Charles T. McCoy, who has long been chairman of the South Dakota republicau state central committee, is here and says there is not the least doubt that Presiden darrison will be renominated on the first ballot, for the delegates as a body will do the thinking and reasoning. Colonel McCoy says the convention will name the strongest man placed before it and he has propared some figures from official sources to prove that General Harrison is the best vote-getter the republican party has had in many years, Here are his figures, showing the republican strength poiled in the last three presidential campaigns in the important political states:

Indian Depredation Claims. Today Senator Paddock addressed a letter to Attorney General Milier on the subject of more prompt consideration and adjudication of Indian deprenation claims pending in which he stated that he had severel times proced upon the assistant atterney general, having charge of these claims, it e importance and the justice of making a preferred list of such as, on account of the poverty of the claimants and the small amount involved, ough; to be advanced at once to judgment "Of course these poor claimants and their friends," wrote the senator, "cannot realize the newness and vastness of the field to be explored nor can they understand how much time and labor it has required to gather up these almost innumerable claims from their former places of repose and bring under the proper method of investigation, otc. I desire simply to impress upon the attorney general the exceptional hardness of the circumstances in which we are all placed in respect of this matter and to urge the adoption of some such rule as I have indi-cated at once."

Paddock Declares for Free Coinage. Senator Paddock in response to an inquiry from Nebraska as to his position on the ver question has written a letter to J. S. Paragus of Hemingford, Neb., in which he exhaustively reviews the effect of a non-monometallism on India and its consequent disastrous results to American wheat and cotton growers, the prices of whose products cotton growers, the prices of whose products are largely determined by the competitive prices in India. He announces himself as strongly in favor of bimetallism, of the free and untimited coinage of silver by the mints of the world. Such a change, he says, would materially change, to the advantage of the agriculturists of the United States, the existing the states of the Control of the says. isting trade situation. Senator Paddock adds that were it not for the apprehensions entertained by the men who control the money of the world as to the unsettline of values which would follow such a radical policy, it would be to the great alvantage of this country to enter upon free countr country to enter upon free coinage at once, and that while refusing to present the advocates of free coinage in the senate an opportunity to vote upon the question as he did vosterday, if at any future time he should resitate to vote at once for free and unlimhesitate to vote at once for free and unimited coinage by our country, independent of all others, it would be because of the existence of such apprehensions which his experience had taught him had often been created by anticipation of far greater evils than the reality afterwards justified.

Senator Paddock goes on to say that in his judgment free coinage is sure to come in due time as a republican policy. He refers to the strong work of President Harrison and Secretary Foster on behalf of an internations; monotary conference, which is now an assured fact, and says that in his judgment, if his free coinage friends will possess their souls with patience and be willing to accept some such plan as this which under existing conditions seems to be the only one practica-ble, we will awake some morning and find all the great commercial nations of the earth upon the bimetallic standard, and all their mints employed in the free and unlimited comage of silver.

It is in the form of an amendment to the present law and provides that whenever any United States circuit court finds a case before it involving a trust or conspiracy in restraint of the trade or commerce among the several states or with foreign nations existing in respect to any articles upon which any duties are levied by the then existing tariff laws of the United States, it shall be the duty of the court to report the facts to the president of the United States, setting forth specifically each and every such article. It shall be the duty of the president upon the receipt of the report to issue his proclamation placing the articles on the free when imported into this country and shall fix the time, not exceed-ing thirty days from the receipt of the finding of the court, at which time the articles shall be admitted free of duties; also when such articles are subject to a tax under the internal revenue laws of the United States, the duties upon such articles shall be equal to the internal revenue tax. It is aimed especially at the Sugar trust. Of the measure Mr. Bryan said: "I some-time since received a letter from J. H. Blair of Omana suggesting that the present anti-trust bill might be made more effective by placing upon the free list articles in the sale of which a trust existed, and that the find ings of the court be made the basis of president's proclamation. HE BANQUETED THE JURY

How John C. Newton Thanked Twelva iowa Men.

NOT PLEASE THE COURT

After Expressing His Dismissaction with the Affair in the Severest Terms Judge Woolson Discharged the Jury in Disgrace.

DES MOINES, Ia., May 27.-[Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-It would, perhaps, be difficult to find twelve sadder, more self-disgusted men today than the gentlemen who constituted the jury which last night returned a verdict of acquittal in the case against John C. Newton in the federal court. They are in disgrace in the eyes of the court, and were this morning discharged from the panel for the term.

Shortly after the jury had returned its verdict last night, and after meeting and congratulating Mr. Newton, they were quietly approached by Charles S. Newton, nephew of the exonerated defendant, and invited to attend a little banquet gotten up as a celebration of the victory. The jurors unthinkingly accepted the invitation and were soon surrounding a heavily laden banquet board with John C. Newton at the head.

Just how Judge Woolson learned of the revelry of the jurors during the night will, perhaps, never be known, but he did find it out, and when court opened at 10 o'clock this morning he ordered the jury brought before him and sent for Mr. Newton. When they appeared he delivered a severe rebuke. Addressing Mr. Newton, he said he regretted exceedingly that the law gave him no power to punish him for contempt, and if it were allowable he would now, after the escapade of last night, set aside the verdict and order him on trial again.

Rebuked the Jury. Mr. Kauffman offered as a defense to the affair that neither Mr. Newton nor the jury meant any disrespect to the court or realized that it was improper. Turning to the jurymen the court then gave them a decidedly severe scoring, dwelling upon the impropriety of their attending a feast prepared by a man they had tried and acquitted of a serious charge, and its effect upon the public morals and what it would lead to.

"If a precedent is established," said the judge, "that a banquet is to be given to a jury by the successful litigant in the trial of men of great weelth, it would soon become so that a noor man could not obtain justice."

Since this jury has so seriously misbe-haved the court could not ask any litigant to take them as jucers, and he (the court) therefore ordered that they be discharged from the panel for the term because of improper conduct.

The jury took the lecture and their dismissai greatly to heart, and after some reflection the court decided to rescind that part of their sentence which discharged them for "improper conduct," leaving the record to show that they had merely been dismissed. The jurors are: George Howard, Oskaloosa; Calvin Overton, Carlisle; S. Young, Nevada; J. M. Bly, Adel; H. M. Pickell, Des Moines; D. B. Mott, Des Moines; George Sloan, C. C. Evans, Fontanelle; L. L. Collins, Dallas Center; Mathias Kerr, Medora; Mark Mc-Coy, Oskaloosa; J. E. Whittier, Redfield. When the jury first went out Wednesday afternoon they took a ballot on the case, missal greatly to heart, and after some re-afternoon they took a ballot on the case, which stood seven for conviction and five for acquittal. When the next to the last ballot was taken they stood ten for acquittal and

Not Pleased by the Plan. HASTINGS, Neb., May 27 .- | Special to THE BEE. |-'There is something very peculiar about the examination of applicants for the nomination as cadet at the West Point Milltary academy, which was held here a week ago. According to national law all appointments to fill vacancies must be made a year in advance. This examination was of those who aspired to fill the place of Cadet Arthur Edwards, who praduates in 1898. Mr. Edwards was appointed from the old Third congressional district, and Mr. McKeighan is supposed to represent the same district in congress, so by rights the racancy occurs in the old Third. But for some reason McKeighan restricted applicants to those from the new Fifth, a considerably smaller district. On this account there is much complaint on the part of these who live in "no man's tand," which was excluded from the competition. Further, it is alleged that two mealing and three montal examiners were too many. It was arranged that the examiners were to meet at the office of one advance. This examination was of those who

Receipts of cured meats, wool and hides show a liberal increase over last year In wheat, rye and hogs the increase is one E. Dickinson, General Superintendent of Car Service Buckingham, General Superintendent of Nebraska Division P. J. Nicholis and Assistant Superintendent J. A. Foley. The party remained in the city about two hours third, in dressed beef and fard one-half while the receipts of flour are double and of barley four times last year's, but a small d crease is seen in cattle and oats and 50 pe inspecting the company's property and then proceeded southward. C. F. Brotherton, general superintendent; cent in corn. At Minneapolis dealings are larger than year ago, the flour output being 173,000 ba rels, against 112,000, and the lumber trad At St. Paul the jobbing trade is dull.

Trade Active and Improving at Omaha. At Omaha trade in processes and hardwar At St. Louis the floods have seriously emarrassed trade, which is otherwise stron At Kansas City cattle receipts were heav, with higher prices, and grain receipts fair.

At Denver there is a gain.
At New Orleans trade is retarded by th floods and by a strike, and in all lines quiet, with money in very light demand. There is little new in the great industrie though other than standard brands of iro are much depressed, No. 1 southern havin sold at $14.50 at Philadelphia in some case Bar irou is irregular, and plates demoralized $1.77 having been quoted, but wire rods er firmer and mills have sold far ahead, demand for structural iron is large. H sales of steel cotton ties have been made at cents delivered, the lowest price ever know Sales of wool continue moderate and limits o present needs, but the dress goods mil have done a larger business than ever.

Doing a Big Business. The cotton mills are doing more business than in any other year. Speculation in co ton has been active with a sixteenth advanand sales of 509,000 bales, floods and bac weather tenuing to lessen production. Wheat is nearly half a cent higher, with sales of 32,000,000 bushels, exports being neariy equal to western receipts.

A speculative corner makes the price of May corn fictitious and oats are a fraction in the control of the higher, while pork products have risen a title and also oil. Coffee is one-eighth of I cent lower; copper unchanged; tin elightly advanced by speculation, and lead stronger at 414 cents. Nothing disturbs the money market. Merchandise exports are large.

The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days number 198, as compared with totals of 192 last week. For the corresponding week of Those operators and their followers, not only here, but in London and Chicago, have been bearish to a man, and were unduly elated by the recent successful campaign against Northern Pacific. The result of this was exaggerated bear selling and the creation of a short interest, which is naturally rendered timed and apprehensive. The resitive strength exhibited in western railroad stocks was due aimost entirely to purchases to cover short contracts. The movement was assisted to some slight extent by outside buying in the coal stocks which were, in the middle of the week, the strongest portion of the list; the week, the strongest parton of the ist-otherwise the public gave no sign and the ex-treme ease of money seems ineffectual to arouse any speculative feeling. Bearish Pressure Exerted. The grangers were naturally the central element in the market. Bearish pressure was exerted without remission upon Rock Island, Burlington and Missouri Pacific, the weakness of the latter stock attracting at-tention and giving rise to rumors that the Gould party were actively engaged on the bear side. The latter part of the weak, how-ever, developed rallying tendencies in these stocks, as well as in St. Paul and other members of the group. The coal stocks were the outh Dakota People Object to Giving the Milwaukee Further Time.

RAPID CITY, S. D., May 27 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-A strong protest signed by the officers and business men of Rapid City against the Pettigrew bill to extend the time for the Milwaukee road to build across the reservation to the Black Hills was tele. graphed to Senators Pettigrew and Kyle and Congressmen Pickler and Jolley today. Protests are going in from all parts of the state and it is believed the Milwaukee road must either build within the next year lose the valuable right-of-way and land granted it.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Rapid City, Missouri River & St. Paul Rallway company, held here last night, the old directory and officers were re-elected. The road has done work and secured property to the amount of $250,000 during the past year. It will be the first direct road built from the Black Hills eastwardly to the Missouri river.

Will Reach the Coal Fields.

DEADWOOD, S. D., May 27 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-It was announced today on the authority of a prominent railroad man that the Burlington will on June 15 let a contract for extending its line from Bald moun tain down Iron creek to Nigger Hill. Nigger Hill is acknowledged to be richer in gold, silver, tia and iron than any other district in the Black Hills. Some of the tin lodes exposed by developments are as much as sixty feet wide. This extension will take the road within thirteen miles of the Hay Crock coal fields, for which it is evidently reaching.

Canada Apologizes for an Insult. ### processor and a second Scrofula.

Symptoms. - This disease has many forms; such as, painful sores, unsightly eruptions, cancerous humors, swelling of the glands, particularly of the neck, hard kernels about the neck (these are felt under the skin for months before soreness is experienced), diseases of the eyes, nose, ears, lungs, hips, and spine, erysipelas, running sores, abscesses, etc.

Scrofula is the most terrible of all blood diseases. The fact that this most virulent poison should exist in the blood should cause great alarm; and when the appetite fails, or pain in the back, boils, pimples, or any of the above symptoms appear, the use of some powerful alterative and purifier should at once be commenced. Nature must be assisted to throw off the poisons, and nothing can assist Nature so effectually as Nature's own productions, and for this purpose she has given us, through the Kickapoo Indians, the greatest of all blood purifiers.
